The East Los Angeles stage runs full of passengers.

Bob Hester has gone into the property business and predicts four days more of rainy weather.

Major Yelverton of England divorcee fame, is at the Grand Central registered under an assumed name.

The Steamer Orizaba arrives to-day from San Francisco and will immediately proceed to San Diego.

The Centennial saloon is open at all hours and Mr. Welch keeps attentive employees at the bar.

The Spanish theatrical company will give a grand performance at Merced Theatre on Saturday night.

The Banning tract, Gospel Swamp, has been divided into forty and eighty acre lots, which will probably sell readily.

There will be a rehearsal of the Cantata of Esther at the Congregational church this evening. All the singers are urged to attend.

The raffie for the two elegant oil paintings will positively take place at Joe Williams' saloon on Saturday night.

The mail and passengers were brought over the break on the San Fernando branch yesterday morning on hand cars.

The members of Olive Lodge, No. 26, K. of P., are requested to meet at their Hall, in full uniform, at 2 o'clock this afternoon to attend the funeral of their late brother R. S. Walker.

Mr. J. L. McAlister advertises thirty-five acres of irrigable land one and a quarter miles from the Court House, for sale at a bargain. See For Sale column.

The gas contract with Mr. Simpkins has been signed, and he is now engaged in repairing the lamps. It is expected that the streets will be lighted in about two weeks.

S. C. Foy, at the old Pioneer establishment, is prepared to do the very best saddlery and harness work at bottom prices. Give him a call at his store, No. 17 Los Angeles Street.

The horse railroad to East Los Angeles is progressing finely, the ties and rails being laid to the new depot of the S. P. R. R., except where it crosses the track. A few days of good weather will see it finished to the river.

Jack Wolf is one of the politest and amiable of men, and administers to the wants of his worn and weary visitors like the good Samaritan. Many would-to-day have been in despair but for his spiritual consolation.

Almost every time we go down the railroad track on Alameda and San Pedro streets, we see a lot of drunken Indians. There is a law against selling liquor to them, and the penalty severe. Who sells them the stuff?

Mr. L. B. Allen, who has had charge of the Southern Pacific railroad station at San Pedro, will move to the tunnel station at Whitewater on Saturday, when the cars will run through to that point.

Messrs. Macy, Wilson & Co., give strangers just as good vehicles as their city friends. All in need of a conveyance should give the town or go to the Mission should give the Fashion Stables a trial.

There will be a meeting of the Mutual Protective Society on Saturday evening, Jan. 29th, at 7 o'clock P. M., at Odd Fellows' Hall in Downey Block. All members are requested to be present, as business of importance will be transacted.

Mr. W. J. Herring, of Herring's Overland Transfer Company, San Francisco, is in the city and we understand will shortly return to establish a branch company in Los Angeles. Mr. Herring is a first class business man, and his enterprise will undoubtedly prove a success. He expects to have wagons here by the middle of March, when the new enterprise will be started.

Mr. J. W. Potts has sold since the first of January 2,090 fruit trees to parties living in Wilmington. Of this number, Gen. P. Banning took 1,951, and Messrs. Wm. Miller, and E. N. McDonald, the balance. Mr. Potts' shipment of yesterday numbered 824 trees. This we call extremely good work for Mr. Potts, and better still for Wilmington.

We visited the County Hospital yesterday to see some friends who are being cared-for in that institution. They all feel the effect of the miserable weather of the last week, and show its depressing influence unmistakably in their countenances and conversation. A few days of sunshine would do the poor fellows a world of good, and Drs. Brooke and McKee should see that they have it.

REASONS WHY

—THE—

REMINGTON FAMILY SEWING

MACHINES

Are Superior to All Others.

FIRST—THEIR SIMPLICITY.

The use of them is very easily acquired, and any girl of ordinary intelligence is capable of keeping them in order.

SECOND—THE CONSTRUCTION of the Machine is such that it may be run at a higher rate of speed than any Shuttle Machine now in the market. In factories where the rate of speed has been registered, over have been attained with ease.

1,000 Stitches per Minute

THIRD—THEIR DURABILITY

being so strong in all their parts and fitted with great mechanical skill, and being free from the harsh jarring movements and friction so common in inferior machines they will wear a long time without repair of any kind.

FOURTH—THEIR ADAPTABILITY.

By a simple change of the needle and thread they will sew the finest cambric or the heaviest leather.

FIFTH—THEY HAVE NO ROTARY CAMS, Cog-wheels or lever arms to make a noise, rumble, or to get out of order.

SIXTH—THEY HAVE AN ADJUSTABLE

Feed which may be raised or lowered at pleasure.

SEVENTH—ALL THEIR MOVEMENTS

are positive and they cannot be thrown out of time.

Manufactured by the Largest Manufacturing Company in America, possessing a worldwide reputation in the manufacture of their machines, they afford a guarantee of perfection in work and construction.

No other sewing machine has ever been introduced so quickly and met with such rapid sale as this.

REMINGTON

It arouses the jealousy, opposition, and personal misrepresentation of the older Sewing Machine Companies through their agents, and even the old Singer Company, through its agents, devote the largest part of its advertisements to show that it is not an improved Singer, and that its calculations are upon a false basis.

"With malice toward none, and charity for all," it will be the aim of the agent of the

to afford to all an opportunity of testing its merits with those of any other, and let them make their own selection.

LOS ANGELES DIVISION

SOUTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

THE DAILY AND WEEKLY HERALD has more than double the circulation of any other paper published in Southern California. Business men recognize it accordingly as the best advertising medium South of San Francisco.

SATURDAY, JAN. 29, 1876.

A gentleman in "New To-Day" advertises for a pair of large, well-broken young mules. Express. Apply at the Evening Express office.

THE supercilious donkey of the Express writes a letter to himself about the "fellow" of the HERALD, and signs "Creditor." That is too thin. "Debtor" would be nearer the mark.

The Los Angeles Express, in speaking of the attitude of the HERALD towards the L. A. & P. R. R. enterprise, compares the editor to the "Trojan Horse." We don't think that it is a good comparison, because there's "nothing in him."—Outlook.

The consciousness that there was a good deal in him probably suggested the comparison to the Express.

The telegraph says that yesterday, on motion of LEWIS, the reporter of the Chronicle, was expelled from the Senate. The person expelled was, we presume, SOMERS, whom WILCOX attempted to kill a few days ago. We are not informed on what ground the expulsion was based, but unless it was something more than the WILCOX controversy we doubt the good sense and judgment of the action.

THE Santa Monica Outlook, taking its cue from the Express, of this city, which has won for itself the title of the Los Angeles Munchausen, insists that the HERALD is inimical to the Los Angeles and Independence railroad. The readers of the HERALD know that the HERALD opposes no railroad, but opposes the giving of subsidy or the taking of stock in any road that cannot or will not give the people a guarantee that it will not be sold out to the Southern Pacific railroad company.

F. P. F. Temple.

It is a subject of profound regret to every resident of this city that through false friendship and misplaced confidence, a man of such sterling worth, unimpeachable character and generous nature as Mr. F. P. F. Temple, should be deprived of the reward of a life of honest industry and careful economy. The misfortunes of Mr. Temple are the misfortunes of the whole community, and his losses are to a certain extent the losses of all. No man has done more toward developing the resources and enhancing the prosperity of Los Angeles city and county than Mr. Temple. He used his wealth in the establishment of new industries and in pushing forward new enterprises. He spent thousands in testing the gold mines of Catalina Island; he was the principal in carrying out the Cerro Gordo water-works system; his money carved the granite bed of the San Jacinto wagon road; from his own means he built the San Emilda saw mills, and he supplied the funds that erected the flouring mill near San Sabino river. In the city Mr. Temple has built dozens of houses that will stand as monuments of his worth as a citizen when those now living have passed away. He possesses two qualities which are rarely found combined in one person—the ability to acquire wealth and a generous disposition. The poor and needy never applied to Mr. Temple in vain. His purse was always open to the calls of charity. There are hundreds of men and families in this valley who remember him as their friend in need, and not a few of these have abundant reason to thank him for assistance at a time when but for him they would have suffered themselves, and been powerless to alleviate the suffering of those near and dear to them. His many kind and charitable acts have endeared him to hundreds, whose sympathy for him in his present difficulties, is deep and heartfelt. Those to whom Mr. Temple is indebted may rest assured that every effort will be made on his part to return their money. Every dollar's worth of property that he can call his own will go to meet the claims of his creditors, and his only regret is that for their sake he has not the means to liquidate every liability at once. Though Mr. Temple is involved in difficulties which seem to threaten his financial ruin, his character is as free from stain as in his most prosperous days, and there are none who question his honesty of purpose or the purity of his intentions. Few have fallen from so great a financial height and yet retained so universally the esteem of his fellow men.

The Bank Matter.

It is the hope of every resident of Los Angeles that the statement in the Star of yesterday morning in relation to the bank of Temple & Workman may prove true. It simply reiterates what we have before stated. We could not be induced to utter a word against Mr. Temple, and no one knows this better than himself. But the management, or rather mismanagement, of the bank, with which Mr. Temple had nothing whatever to do, is spoken of in terms the reverse of complimentary by everybody. The Star says, and one of the assistant committee is the authority, that two of the employees have charged themselves with nearly $100,000, gold coin. If this is true here is the proof of our statement that Mr. Temple is a victim to the culpable mismanagement of those whom he employed to conduct his business. If but $300,000 can be collected out of the $750,000 there is a squandering of $450,000; add to this the $100,000 charged to two of the employees and we see what has become of $550,000 of the bank's funds. It is also stated that the best of the assets are tied up as collateral security for money advanced by banks in San Francisco. For further information we refer the reader to an article from the Republican which we reprint this morning.

Los Angeles Porpoises.

We see it stated that at an "informal" meeting held in this city a few evenings since two hundred and fifty thousand dollars were subscribed towards establishing a new steamship line between Santa Monica and San Francisco. It is also announced from an unreliable source that Mr. E. J. Baldwin took seventy-five thousand dollars worth of stock in the new venture. We have not the slightest notion that this is true, but if it should chance to be so it will prove a speculation that will detract somewhat from Mr. Baldwin's sobriquet of "Lucky." We rarely find a business man wasting his money for the sole purpose of seeing some other business man lose his. We have the assurance of GOODALL, NELSON & PERKINS that there is not sufficient business to pay the expenses of two lines of steamers, and we presume they will satisfy all interested parties of the truth of their statement by an examination of their books. With this light on the subject we are mistaken in the business tact of Mr. Baldwin if he invests seventy-five thousand dollars in an enterprise that cannot but prove a losing speculation. Another proof that this proposed opposition line of steamers is all wind and blow is found in the fact that no steamers suitable for the service can be purchased on this coast. They must be built or purchased in the East and sent around the Horn or over the railroad that Senator JONES and the patriotic, self-sacrificing, little band of capitalists presided over by Col. WARNER, are going to build when our people subscribe $600,000 to its stock. We advise shippers and travelers not to wait over six months for an opportunity to patronize this new line. The capital of the new company is all in the ink pot of the Express, and like other big schemes of our contemporary, it will only thrive when bombast will pass for energy and a torrent of frothy words will have equal value with a stream of twenty dollar pieces. We can point out thirty men in this city who can out blow all the porpoises in the Pacific ocean, and if first-class steamships were selling for ten cents a piece, the combined fortunes of the eloquent squad would not purchase a life-preserver. The number of enterprises these gentlemen have carried out on paper cannot be enumerated, while those that have been carried out, in fact, are 0.

Night Dispatches.

EASTERN NEWS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The House to-day indulged in one of those exciting personal altercations, which have been so much frequent occurrence of late years, and which is not at all creditable to the House as a body, or to its members immediately participating. The Military Academy Bill was under consideration and clause relating to pay of Cadets, gave rise to earnest discussion on the subject of Economy and Retrenchment. Mr. Cox made some strictures upon the course of the Republicans which were not relished by gentlemen of that party, and Mr. Hale of Maine stepped to the front as its champion, and made an effort to show that in spite of boasted economy the Democrats, especially those from the South, had already piled up a mountain of bills, compensations for all manner of property handed by Federal troops during the late war. In the course of his remarks he told Mr. Cox that he, Mr. Cox, would be voting for these bills when his master ordered him to do so. Mr. Cox tried to get the floor immediately to reply, but it was yielded to others, and the New York member was so nettled that he accused the Chair of unfairness, but subsequently apologized for the remark. When he finally succeeded in getting the floor he inquired of Mr. Hale what he meant, when the latter replied that Mr. Cox would obey the dominating influence of his party, meaning Southern members. To that Cox replied that it remained to be seen. It was a matter for the future to determine how far he would be controlled by any masters, and wound up with the remark that Mr. Hale had been known as "Blaine's little bub." Many in the galleries and on the floor understood him to say "pup," and among them Mr. Garfield, who at once called him to order, and demanded that the words should be taken back. The greatest excitement at once prevailed, members on both sides springing to their feet and the Chairman pounded with his gavel hard enough to nearly break the desk, while amid it all, Mr. Cox and Mr. Hale were vociferating and gesticulating at each other, the latter contending himself for the time being by hurling at Mr. Cox the name of "Shoo Fly," which was bestowed upon him by Gen. Butler, a few years ago. Order was finally restored, and it was ascertained that Mr. Cox had said "Pup," and not "Purr." Mr. Cox expressed willingness to withdraw the offensive remark. The troubled waters were thus partially calmed, nevertheless Mr. Cox did not neglect the opportunity in his subsequent remarks to give Mr. Hale some sly raps on account of an alleged inconsistency in refusing to vote for the Centennial bill last year and voting for it this year, which Mr. Hall subsequently explained satisfactorily.

PACIFIC COAST.

San Francisco News.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28th.—Arrived steamer Ancon and Kalamora from the Southern coast. Sailed, Los Angeles for Wilmington.

The California Rifle Association met yesterday afternoon. The Twos decided to postpone the first practice match for four weeks, in consequence of the inclement weather and bad condition of the roads. The resignation of Gen'l D. W. C. Thompson, Director of the D. W. C. Thompson, was accepted and Maj. Samuel Backus was elected instead.

Edward Corner, a New York detective, arrived last evening with a requisition for Samson Rosenblatt, the defaulting jeweler. In the afternoon of the same day on which Rosenblatt was expected here from the East, a Procureur on Sacramento street desired a detective to visit the Vallejo boat to see that two girls, whom she had engaged in the East, would come to her house, as she was afraid of things as long as that Sam Rosenblatt was on the train. The woman also visited the train and secured her females in time, as Rosenblatt had made an appointment with them, and was about to convey them in a hack to the West End Hotel.

The Italians have secured Platt's hall for their annual carnival, which comes off February 28th. The interminable crooked whisky case against the Antioch distillery has not yet ended. Counsel were arguing all day yesterday, but the indisposition of Col. Barnes for the defense, after he had spoken four or five hours, carried the argument over till to-day. If he or the other attorneys do not get sick it may go to the jury to-morrow.

One of Sheriff Noonan's deputies is being accused of committing petty tricks. His name is Nolan, and he is head keeper for the Sheriff. His mode of operations is to charge, say, fifteen dollars for putting a keeper in charge of a place under attachment, paying the man in charge nine dollars and pocketing the difference for commission. Noonan has been spoken to on the subject, but he declines to interfere.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28th.—Bierce, Ayres and Nelson have left the New York Letter, and there is some talk of another paper of the kind.

Charles S. Neal filed a petition for probate of the estate of H. C. Kibbe. The estate is valued at $75,000.

A Policeman found a man by the name of Thomas Lane, in a gutter on Government street last evening insensible, and took him to the city prison where he died this forenoon. Whisky is ascribed as the cause.

Another bad day for rascals at the Police Court. James Willis, the perpetrator of Carrie Mortimer, for assaulting a negro woman for declining to drink drugged beer, was fined $300; W. Johnston, for assaulting a Policeman, $200, and Hannah McFadden, a beauty of the Barbary Coast and the rival of the famous Roaring Gimpel, was fined $270 for petty larceny and carrying in whisky to the prison.

J. Nicholson Elliott has been arrested on a requisition from New York, charged with forging U. S. bonds, was yesterday remanded to New York for trial.

Last evening a row occurred in Butchertown about some trifling matter, when Burbridge struck another man named Harry in the left breast with a butcher knife, inflicting a painful wound which will likely cause death. Burbridge was considerably under the influence of liquor. He was arrested on the charge of assault with intent to murder.

The last will of the late Benjamin Avery was filed yesterday. To the wife of the deceased was bequeathed an Eastern estate with the request that she extend aid to any worthy relative of the testator who may need assistance. Edward Bosqui was appointed executor without bonds. A provision desired his wife to select articles for presents to be given to such friends as she knew to be most congenial and dear to him. The estate is valued at $45,000.

On board the ship Dexter just in from New York, a female, shipped in New York as Stewardess, claims to be the wife of the cook. Subsequently it was ascertained that the relationship was assumed. The Captain endeavored to rectify matters, but the cook objected and threatened his life, and was put in irons and arrested on arriving here. Another man was put in his place and the same difficulty occurred regarding him.

Bank of California stocks were assessed to-day $10 per share, delinquent Feb. 28th. SUCCESS

Depending in a great measure on square dealing, we only ask a trial to convince an appreciating and discerning public of the correctness of our assertions. We have observed a large lot of a fine brand of flour going in the store of C. Brode during the last day or two. Brode buys his groceries and provisions in large quantities for cash, and that is the reason he sells the best that can be procured at such low figures.

H. Lockwood, R. S. Orange, Jan. 25th, 1876.

Great indignation was manifested yesterday that only one hotel runner was admitted to the steamer Orizaba. The other hotel men and runners are naturally disgusted, and utter curses both loud and deep against the steamship company and their agent here. It is a stroke of enterprise on the part of the Pico House, which has for sale all right, but the agent of the steamship line here must take the curses on his devoted head. Fisher didn't send any runner, he is all serene. The Grand Central won't have any runner until Fisher can get his own runner back for a couple of nights to recuperate his system. He says sleeping on sacks and mats in the passage ways gets wearisome after a couple of weeks.

A gentle zephyr in Holly, New York, wafted three ladies a distance of a hundred yards or so, landing one of them over a five-foot fence into the yard of a brother of our friend Berry. They are old acquaintances of Berry, and he has sent word to them to leave a country where such outrages occur and come to this beautiful country, with all their friends, and buy some of the land which he has for sale and live safely and happily ever after.

J. Z. Smith, 61 Aliso street, has just received 500 pounds of chestnuts; also, a small lot of Nepal barley, for seed.

This barley came originally from the Black sea, looks very much like wheat and is very prolific. To-day he will receive 25 sacks more of those new potatoes from Orange, which our friends who tried them pronounce the best they ever had.

Yesterday the sun came out in its old-time splendor. The mud began to dry up the wagons came in from the country loaded with produce, and business looked lively. The rain is, no doubt, over for the present, and strangers can view this part of the country as it usually appears. Bob Hester has failed in his new vocation of prophet, and thinks of giving lectures on the past.

The Chinese New Year celebration was finished off yesterday by the piling up of about a ton of fire crackers in front of the store of Quong Fook Long, on Arcadia street, and setting fire to the mass, which made a tremendous noise, attracting a large crowd of Chinamen and Young Americans who poked up the explosive material until the last one went off.

That genial and large-hearted gentleman, Mr. Caswell, the efficient agent of the Tennessee Jubilee Troupe, departs this morning by the Telegraph route for Caliente. May his shadow never grow less, may he have the coach all to himself, may no robbers seek to interview him, and may his path through life be smooth. We are sorry to part with him.

The Centennial meeting of the ladies at the Pico House on Wednesday afternoon was quite an agreeable gathering. Mrs. Col. Whiting acted as President, Mrs. John O. Wheeler was elected Treasurer and Mrs. H. McCallan Secretary. A resolution was adopted, asking the co-operation of all the ladies of this section.

Mr. Adam Malezewski, at Lyon's Station, committed suicide by taking poison, and the facts were learned by telegraph. The deceased was quite an old man, and, so far as we can learn, had no relatives in the country.

W. Mahen, D. Arce and wife, E. K. Nutting, A. B. Nutting, W. B. Nettleton and son, P. Petersen, J. Shaffer, Dr. E. A. Preuss, E. A. Preuss, Jr., J. L. Solomoni, J. M. Lewis, J. Young, R. Smith.

V. Bloemmer, Corresponding Secretary; B. Marxson, Financial Secretary; L. Roeder, Treasurer. Directors: Dr. J. Kurtz, A. Schmidt, H. Heinisch and D. Schieck.

George Trent who runs the boot-polishing stand in front of Schindler's boot and shoe store, has named it the Centennial, probably to indicate that he polishes for ten cents. We have seen him take a quarter, however, and forget to return the change.

Mary Muckdock Mason divides her sex into three classes—the giddy but-terflies, the busy bees, and the woman's rightists. The first are pretty and silly, the second plain and useful, and the third mannish and odious. The first wear long trailing dresses, and smile at you while talking; the second wear aprons, and give you apple dumplings, and the third wants your money, and your vote.
